THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO GO, UPWARD

It struck me the other day that there needs to be a reason why we do things the way we do. It is not uncommon for that core reason to be lost in the everyday grind. The usual response when asked why is "because that's the way it has always been done". So when we took the time to examine "why" we pour our heart and soul into the Upward brand it was refreshing that our original core value still rang true, "It's because we care".

We care that our amazing, habitual and loyal users love a clean practical and functional layout.

We care about the environment and use only FSC[®] certified paper and have achieved our own FSC[®] chain of custody certification.

We care that the quality of materials used to build our diaries will last longer than the intended 12 months of use.

We care that the cover materials we use are safe and contains no phthalates.

We care that our copysafe pockets will not transfer the toner off the printed pages you store in them.

We care that our deliveries are made on time and in full.

And most of all we care that the information we print is relevant and can be relied upon.

The Annett Group has owned the Upward brand for more than 20 years and from the time of acquisition we set a course for continuous improvement. It is true that pushing the barrow of small business and dated goods is a grind, but it is certainly not without reward. The abundance of testimonials, support and recognition from adoring diary users fuels the fire and remind us of "WHY" we do things the way we do.

Before we reach the end result, we also care that every process in-between is approached with the utmost respect. Our diaries are made in a factory that treats their used water to ensure it is safe to be recycled. Labourers within the factory are not subject to a working week longer than 40 hours as an average and use absolutely no child labour. As part of our ethical certifications we are registered with SEDEX and ensure our materials are sustainably sourced, safe, and contain no harmful chemicals.

UPWARD SPECIAL FORMAT DIARIES - UNIQUELY TAILORED

Most use a diary to record and organise their time, some however need more specific information and formats. One of Upward's greatest strengths is its commitment to producing special format diaries.

The perfect property and management tool, the Upward Rural Diary is a financial year diary that comes in a hard case, section sewn format. It is long lasting and ideal for storing in a bookcase for future reference. Included are various ledgers, planners, timetables and statements relating to property and stock management. End of month statements are provided for receipts and bank deposits, livestock summaries, operating costs and expenditures. Quality assurance forms and property/stock registers make management and compliance a much more straight forward process.

BUSY WOMAN'S DIARY

Designed for coordinating a busy household, this diary offers a host of handy hints and information to aid in household management. The week to opening format allows scheduling of family events and appointments at a glance. Monthly budget table assists in planning family finances, while handy hints on household repairs, water saving, stain removal, gardening and personal grooming are provided in the back of the diary. Also included is a table for birthdays and anniversaries, a summary of astrological star signs, list of traditional and modern wedding anniversary gifts, plus reference of monthly birthstones. For extra beneficial health information, a 'Body Mass Index', comprehensive calorie guide, CPR chart, first aid advice and Women's Health section – written by the Royal Hospital for Women Foundation, Sydney, is included. Address book available upon request.

NURSE'S DIARY

The A7 one week per view format Nurse's diary has been designed to assist nurses on their rounds.
